It is the volunteerism and help of our residents that links a community together and brings forth these vital services. Your willingness to participate and to share your knowledge and experiences is truly appreciated.

Lake Havasu City is committed to providing programs and services in the community both needed and wanted. Every board, commission and committee member plays a pivotal role in providing guidance and direction on numerous important issues.

This packet includes profiles of each of the various boards, commissions and committees, and is intended to provide you with helpful information about the role appointed members have when serving. It is hoped that once you have read through these materials that you will visualize yourself serving on one of these boards, commissions or committees, knowing that you can contribute to its success. Serving takes time, commitment, and vision, but our community is well worth the effort!

You can apply for an appointment by completing the application included with this packet and returning it to the Lake Havasu City Clerk's office. Although there may not be a vacancy at the time you apply, your application will be retained for one year from the time it is received. A current list of interested citizens is maintained in the event a vacancy occurs.

You can make a difference and you will enjoy serving on one of Lake Havasu City's boards, commissions, or committees that shape and develop your community.

Again, thank you for your interest.

THE ROLE OF BOARDS, COMMISSIONS & COMMITTEES

The Lake Havasu City Code allows the City Council to create boards, commissions, and committees to advise the City Council and/or carry out specific duties, which are administered by City staff. The responsibilities and duties of each board, commission, and committee are set forth by the City Council and/or the Arizona Revised Statutes.

Membership and selection of board, commission, and committee appointees are governed by the City Council unless otherwise mandated by state law. Terms of members generally range from two to three years unless otherwise specified, but members may be removed by majority vote of the City Council at any time. Some boards, commissions, and committees also require the appointment of alternate members to serve in the absence of a regular member.

As mentioned above, some boards, commissions, and committees operate under state law and have decision making authority, while others are advisory in nature. The City Council has the discretion to accept, reject, or modify the recommendations it receives from its advisory boards, commissions, and committees. The City Council must weigh and consider all information received on any particular issue and make decisions that are in the best interest of the City. If a recommendation is rejected or modified, rest assured it is not a reflection of the importance of your role as a board, commission, or committee member.

All board, commission, and committee members must disclose conflicts of interest in accordance with state law. A conflict occurs when a public officer (this term includes board, commission and committee members) or employee personally has or whose relative has a substantial interest in any contract, sale, purchase or service to the City, or any decision of the City. Conflicts of interest must be declared and recorded in the official City records maintained by the City Clerk. Members must also refrain from voting on or otherwise participating in any manner in any contract, sale, purchase, service, or decision of the City relating to the conflicting interest. For more information on conflict of interest law, contact the Lake Havasu City Attorney's office.

City staff members assigned to assist boards, commissions, and committees also have a responsibility to their supervisor and to Lake Havasu City. City staff will provide information and materials to assist board, commission, and committee members with their duties and responsibilities, and will offer suggestions to help accomplish board, commission, and committee goals and objectives. Staff also has an obligation to present balanced information on issues so that both the positive and negative aspects can be readily identified.

If you have specific questions on boards, commissions, or committees that you may be interested in, please contact the City Clerk's office for assistance.
